The Daily Courant.

Numb. 124.

Thursday, September 10. 1702.

From the Paris Gazette, Dated Sept. 9.

Naples, Aug. 8.

WE are in great quiet here at present: The Troops that were sent against the Banditi, have forc'd them to disperse; and it appears that their shewing themselves in so many places, was a contrivance of the Enemy to make it thought that there was a great number of Men in Arms, to favour the Designs of the Conspirators. Some Companies that were in Capua, are dispos'd into several places on the Coasts, to reinforce the Garrisons. 100 Horses are arriv'd in a Genouese and other Vessels, to mount the new-rais'd Cavalry, of which 3 Troops are compleated already. The Neapolitan Régiment of Foot of the Prince of Valle Picolomini, is Arm'd and Cloath'd, and will be embarqu'd for Cadiz.

Venice, Aug. 25. Admiral Duodo is arriv'd in the Gulf from the Levant, and has been reinforc'd by 2 Ships out of our Arsenal. Two of our Noblemen, viz. Ferigo Cornaro and Carlo Russini, are at length gone from hence to congratulate the King of Spain on his Accession to the Throne.

From the Harlem Courant, Dated Sept. 12.

Cologn, Sept. 8. We have put 100 Men Prusians and Hollanders into the little Town of Lulsdorf on the other side of the Rhine, to prevent its being surpriz'd by the Parties of the Garrison of Bonn in their Excursions on that side of the River: They work hard at Bonn on the new Redoubts and Lines without the City, and 'tis said they will be extended farther out than was at first design'd; which occasions great murmuring among the Inhabitants that have Vineyards on the Ground where those Works are to be; there having been as many Acres of Vines cut down already as would have made 100 Hogsheads of Wine.

Copenhagen, Sept. 2. Several Brass Guns and Mortars of different sizes, with other Ammunition, are embarqu'd in one of the King's Ships to be transported to Holstein.

Sleswyck in Holstein, Sept. 7. We shall go into Mourning for the Death of our Duke all the Country over, and the same will be done throughout Sweden, in the same manner as if the King of Sweden himself were dead. The Orders of the Government are issued out in the name of Prince Charles Frederick.

Dublin, Sept. 1. The Gent. that were committed for Treafonable Practices have been Try'd and Acquitted; but one Donnagh Manneen was Convicted of High Treason, for giving Intelligence to the Fr. Cows, Sept. 8. Last Night came into this Road the Scarborough Man of War in 8 Weeks and 4 days from Jamaica; The Captain reports that the Seamen on Board Admiral Bembow's Squadron are very healthful, that he had taken several Men out of Merchant-Ships to reinforce him, and was sail'd for the Spanish West-Indies. In her Passage home she met with a Spanish Galleon and a Galley on the Banks of Newfound-Land, and spoke with the Galley, who told him that the rest of the Plate Fleet being about 30 Sail were behind making the best of their way for Cadiz; the Scarborough knew nothing of a War being declared till she came on the Coast of Ireland, where she took in a Pilot, and so sail'd directly hither. This Morning was brought in here a French Privateer of 12 Guns, with 6 Patareros and 70 Men by a Dutch Caper, which she took in the Bay of Biscay.
